

Seniors & Friends

invite you to join them for an afternoon concert
featuring the Glenn Miller Orchestra
on Sunday, January 30, 2 p.m.
at the Carolina Theater
(310 S. Greene Street, Greensboro)

Tickets are $31 each. To reserve your ticket, contact jess@alamancechurch.org; (336)-697-0488 ext. 126

Tickets have been set aside, and will be held until Dec. 20. Reserve YOUR seat today!

Jackie Jobe Haines asks: “Are you In the Mood to sit back, relax, and enjoy a Serenade in Blue of Big Band music performed by the Glenn Miller Orchestra? If dreams of a Moonlight Serenade intrigue you (though the actual time for the concert is 2 p.m.), hop on board the Chattanooga Choo Choo with Seniors & Friends; and come to the historic Carolina Theater. If you wish, you may board that train in Kalamazoo with your favorite gal, making sure that this train stops at Tuxedo Junction on your way to Greensboro — or simply take the APC bus. Your sweetheart may wish to wear her finest gown including her String of Pearls. This beloved orchestra has been entertaining generations since performing for soldiers of the American Patrol during World War II, and people are still snapping their fingers and dancing to the swing beat! Refreshments are offered at the Carolina Theater, so please leave your Little Brown Jug at home. Tickets are selling quickly, so don’t delay! The number to call is Pennsylvania 6-5000 or contact Jess Rigel as noted above.”

Effective Oct. 1, 2021, the Carolina Theater requires proof of full COVID vaccination, or proof of a negative COVID test, for guests aged 12 and over.
Masks are required.

Hanging of the Greens

Wednesday, November 17

Open Door Supper is at 5:45 p.m.

After supper,
we’ll decorate the church
in preparation for Advent.

We’ll hang wreaths,
and put up the Chrismon tree.

There’s sure to be plenty of things to do,
for all ages.
